

Festival a 'love letter' of LGBTQ artistry

By Leba Hertz | June 13, 2017

0

Photo: Courtesy Embodiment Project

Embodiment Project- pictured: Embodiment Project company dancers who will be part of the Fresh Meat Festival

The Fresh Meat Festival boasts that it will have “world-premiere-packed features, jaw-dropping

Enlightenment of Edvard Munch

We Players forges a new era of art in the parks

'Brownsville Song' wails of our national shame

Performers at Z Space include Breanna Sinclairé, Devi Peacock, Elena Rose, Embodiment Project, Ernesto Palma and Robbie Tristan, Jahaira Fajardo and Angelica Medina, Rotimi Agbabiaka, Shawna Virago, Sean Dorsey Dance, StormMiguel Florez, Tajah J, host Annalise Ophelian and a world premiere by House of Energi.

Artistic Director Sean Dorsey curated this year's bill "as a love letter to LGBTQ communities," adding that it will offer "three nights of fierce, proud and outrageously talented transgender and LGBT artists speaking our truths and declaring justice as our birthright."

— Leba Hertz

Fresh Meat Festival: 8 p.m. Thursday-Saturday, June 15-17. $15-$50. Z Space, 450 Florida St., S.F. www.zspace.org

Leba Hertz

Arts and Entertainment
Editor

HEARST newspapers

© 2017 Hearst Corporation

Dark

enlightenment of Edvard Munch

We Players
forges a new era of art in the parks

'Brownsville
Song' wails of our national shame